About This Initiative

Action 24 of the National Drugs Strategy refers to the need to expand the involvement of the community and voluntary sectors in prison drug policy and identifies the Local Prison Liaison Groups as a means of facilitating this involvement.

A Prison Liaison Group based in Dublin has been meeting since 2000 and brings together personnel from the Irish Prison Service (IPS), staff working within the prisons and representatives from community-based projects. The focus of the Liaison Group's work has been to improve throughcare between prison services and community services for people with drug misuse problems. A key part of this throughcare process is establishing formal links between prison and community services.

One of the key steps identified by the Liaison Group in developing these links was the compilation of a directory of community-based services for use by staff within the prisons. The purpose of the directory is to facilitate and support the development of prison/community links by providing up-to-date and accurate information on where community projects are located, what specific services they provide, how these services can be accessed and contact details.

How To Use This Directory

All projects are first listed in the A to Z index on page 6, along with the corresponding page on which you can find a particular projects' details. So, for example, if you wish to search for a project already known to you, you can look to this index for quick page reference.

Many of the projects are known by their acronyms and so a glossary of project acronyms is also given on page 6, in order of A to Z.

An index of projects is also given on pages 7 and 8, in order of their Postal District, Dublin 1 through to Dublin 24, including Co.Wicklow, again as a quick reference if you wish to search projects by their area code.

But the main part of this Directory is organised in sections 10 to 22, according to Local Drugs Task Force Areas, and the main index on page 9 reflects this. There are 43 projects in total, and within each Drugs Task Force Area the related projects are listed alphabetically, and according to their full title. The projects are designated a page each so that the page may be easily replaced by updated versions.

A colour bar at the right edge of each page indicates, at a glance, the main supports and services that each project provides. The key to the types of services is shown opposite. A white ✓ tick indicates that the service is provided. A white ✗ mark indicates that the service is not provided. The white box at the end of the colour bar code will indicate if there is any specific expertise provided by a project.
