CHAIRMAN'S STATEMENT

2018 was the first full year of our National Drowning Prevention Strategy. When launching the Strategy our Minister, Michael Ring, T.D. highlighted the amazing aquatic resources that we have in Ireland, with 3171km of coastline, 12,000 loughs and our 5 longest rivers that measure 1070km. In this context he added a challenge to all members of Water Safety Ireland. We are challenged to make water safety part of the conversation so that it becomes part of our culture. The wearing of lifejackets as an aspect of our aquatic culture is one such focus of Water Safety Ireland, one that we are striving to achieve a significant shift from non-compliance to compliance as part of this strategy document.

2018 has been a good news story re the number of drownings. Once more the numbers have decreased, this time from 109 to 103. However, if we focus on the average number of drownings over the past ten years then we see that the number is still stubbornly high at 124. We should of course take heart from the reduction and in this context, I want once again to say "thank you", "go raibh míle maith agaibh" to all our volunteers nationwide for the public service you perform as Examiners, Instructors, Coaches, Trainee Instructors, Organisers and Helpers. The pillars upon which we deliver our drowning prevention strategy include our swimming and lifesaving training programmes, our education developments, our media messaging, our surf lifesaving and our water safety awareness courses. Arguably, the reduction in drownings in 2018 to 103 is linked in some way to all of the above. We can never fully enumerate the number of lives saved and the number of aquatic accidents prevented as a result of our many activities but we can be assured that lives have been saved as a result of the activities of our dedicated volunteers throughout the country.

As Chairman I wish to extend my gratitude to all members of Water Safety Ireland whether they serve on the Council of WSI, whether they work on the Commissions, the Committees, the Working Groups and especially on the Water Safety Area Committees. They deserve the gratitude of the entire nation. Our range of programmes and courses expands each year which imposes ever increasing challenges on our volunteers and staff. That challenge is to increase the number of people that hear our message and learn skills that enable them to stay safe in aquatic environments. 2018 saw the injection of €700,000 in special funding to target at-risk groups with specific marketing campaigns that promoted water safety awareness across a variety of media. It also allowed us to further develop our Primary Aquatics Water Safety (PAWS) programme into schools nationwide. Our "Summer Weeks" programme also reaches this primary school age group when they are on school holidays. Lifesaving Sport is growing in strength around the country and engages thousands of young people, at nipper, junior and senior level. It has been developed to improve the standard of lifesaving and rescue skills among our lifeguards. It also introduces children to lifesaving skills at a young age.

Water Safety Ireland Lifesaving Sport had a great year in 2018. The 2018 European Junior Lifesaving Championships were held in Ireland and we can all be so proud that our teams came 2nd in Europe in the beach competitions and 5th in the overall combined pool and beach competitions, the best performance ever by an Irish team. I wish to congratulate competitors and particularly coaches and organisers for their long hours of dedication. Throughout 2018, we issued more than 50,000 swimming, lifesaving and water safety certificates including Lifeguarding and Basic Life Support. The total number of certificates issued across all our programmes was nearly 112,000, with 40,000 of those going to primary school children, a wonderful achievement that is testament to our teachers nationwide. The Awards ceremony of 2018 included presentations of the SEIKO Just in Time Awards, Long Service Awards, Recognition Awards for services rendered to Water Safety Ireland and also the Volunteer of the Year Award and Sports Person of the Year award. Among the recipients were members of the Community Inshore Rescue Boat stations, members of the public, members of Water Safety Ireland and other individuals and organisations from the media and corporate sector who assisted us in the reduction of drownings, by supporting the work of Water Safety Ireland throughout the year. The SEIKO Just in Time Rescue Award is presented to those who have gone to the assistance of a fellow human being in distress in water. These awards are recognised within lifesaving circles as prestigious humanitarian awards given annually by Water Safety Ireland and sponsored by Seiko for the past eighteen years. I also gratefully acknowledge the contributions from our Local Authorities throughout Ireland. The support of these groups is of great value to us in developing programmes to reduce drownings. All this work is supported by our staff at head office. In an effort to support the staff, the Council carried out a review of the office systems, which resulted in a new work plan being put in place. I wish to thank the staff for their great co-operation during this process. I am conscious of the number of volunteers who have lost a family member during 2018 and I extend on behalf of IWS our deepest sympathies to all families, including those of Moira O'Brien, Molly Cahill, Angela Wynne and Daniel O'Connell.

In closing, I wish to thank Mr Michael Ring, Minister for Rural & Community Development and his officials for supporting our work. Please make water safety part of the conversation that you have with friends and family and together, let's bring drownings down.

Martin O'Sullivan
Chairman, Water Safety Ireland

MISSION

Through education and training, promote a stronger safety culture, attitude and behaviour for people on, in or near water. We strive to reduce drowning fatalities by increasing water safety awareness so that our aquatic environments can be enjoyed with confidence and safety.

WHAT WE DO

COUNCIL CONTD...

Conor Coyne

---

Conor Coyne is the Executive Director of The Kylemore Trust – the parent company of Kylemore Abbey and Victorian Gardens. This organisation is the largest employer in Connemara and home to the most visited attractions in the West of Ireland. His career has encompassed several senior commercial, strategic and leadership roles with organisations such as Eryia, Irish Water, EY and Bord na Móna.

Anastasia Ward

Anastasia, originally from Ballinasloe, County Galway, is a Barrister who qualified in 1994. She has worked as a consultant to the Office of the Attorney General and has lectured across a vast selection of subject areas in a wide variety of third-level institutions including the Law Society of Ireland and Griffith College Dublin. She also runs a small pharmacy chain in partnership with her husband. Anastasia swam competitively for a number of years in the 1980s at a provincial level, and during this time, she also undertook lifesaving training. These experiences lead her to an appreciation of the importance of water safety generally, and of swimming as a life skill. Her leisure interests, apart from swimming, include cinema and classical music.

Philip Keleghan

Philip Keleghan is from County Wicklow and has been involved in Water Safety and other aquatic activities for over forty years. He is an active Water Safety Instructor, Examiner, and Swimming Tutor and is currently Vice-Chair of Kildare Water Safety. ## COUNCIL MEETINGS 2018 - GENDER BALANCE

The gender composition of the Water Safety Ireland Council consists of four females (30%) and nine males (70%). It is the intention of Council to meet a target of at least 40% female through the use of Stateboards.ie, the primary portal through which appointments to vacancies on state boards are advertised and the continuous professional development of Water Safety Ireland volunteers nationwide, 55% of whom are female.

WATER SAFETY AREA COMMITTEES

The organisation has thirty Water Safety Area Committees, arranged almost on a county basis plus the Defence Forces and the Garda Síochána Water Safety Area Committees. Much recognition must be afforded to these Water Safety Area Committees who devise a programme of events and courses to cover their areas for the year. In addition to delivering water safety promotional programmes and demonstrations at schools, colleges, businesses, exhibitions and community events, each Committee delivers an extensive programme of pool water safety sessions in the winter and beach, lake and river water safety sessions in the summer. The official membership structure is of a voluntary nature with over two thousand five hundred members nationwide. It operates on a number of different levels: Life Governors, Examiners, Trainee Examiners, Tutors, Instructors, Trainee Instructors and Non-Technical Volunteer Organisers. Each Local Authority has a Water Safety Development Officer who is a member of Water Safety Ireland. Thanks to all their efforts to promote water safety we have seen a significant increase in the development of water safety awareness in local communities.

SUMMER SAFETY WEEKS

WSI Water Safety Area Committees nationwide run an extensive series of swimming and water safety weeks throughout the summer in pools, rivers, lakes and beachfronts. Many of these classes extend beyond the summer in places that have pools and leisure centres. Swim weeks consist of instruction in swimming and water safety weeks develop skills in rescue, water survival and basic life support. Details of these programmes are regularly updated on www.WSI.ie.

RISK ASSESSMENTS

Water Safety Ireland volunteers carried out 65 Risk Assessments on bathing areas and waterways nationwide that may pose a particular risk to the public. In order to make these waterways safer, recommendations typically include the erection of public rescue equipment, signage and other necessary facilities. We also complete public rescue equipment usage checks and advise Local Authorities, state agencies and private enterprises on matters relating to water safety.

LIFEGUARD RESCUES AND PREVENTIVE ACTIONS

Our Local Authorities employ Water Safety Ireland assessed lifeguards during the bathing season at popular bathing sites nationwide. The table below gives a clear picture of the effectiveness and value they contribute to saving lives each year and we commend them for this work in drowning prevention.

NATIONAL AWARDS CEREMONY

The Print Works Conference Centre, Dublin Castle, Wednesday, 28th of November

Mr Seán Canney TD, Minister of State for Community Development and the Chairman of Water Safety Ireland, Martin O’Sullivan, presented a range of Awards including the SEIKO Just in Time Awards, Life Governor Certificates and Medals, Long Service Awards, Recognition Awards for services rendered to Water Safety Ireland and also the “Charles Thomson Local Authority Award” and Volunteer of the Year Award. Among the recipients are members of the public, members of Water Safety Ireland and other individuals and organisations who assist in the reduction of drownings by supporting the work of Water Safety Ireland throughout the year. Long-Service Volunteer Awards were presented to 63 volunteers, recognising a combined total of 1,315 years of service teaching swimming, water rescue and survival skills in communities nationwide.

Martin O’Sullivan, Chairman WSI with Martin Cuillinane, recipient of the SEIKO Just In Time Award and Seán Canney TD, Minister of State for Community Development. Mr Cullinane’s video about the rescue incident received nearly 300,000 views online.

Martin O’Sullivan, Chairman WSI, Gardas Clancy, Doherty and Cosgrove recipients with Seán Canney TD, Minister of State for Community Development.

Sports Persons of the Year Award

Amy O'Brien - Wicklow

Amy has had a super year competing both nationally and internationally. Amy took home many medals at the National Stillwater Lifesaving Championships in February and also won several medals at the National Junior and Senior Openwater Lifesaving Championships in Kilkee, Co. Clare, and Curracloe, Co. Wexford, earlier this year.

Amy represented Ireland at the 2018 European Junior Lifesaving Championships, which were held in Ireland this year, and won a total of 5 medals as well as several other A and B final placings:

- 2 Gold – 1st in the Board Rescue and 1st in the Simulated Emergency Response Competition (both team events)
  - 2 Silver – 2nd in the Ocean Woman event, a gruelling individual event comprising of all surf lifesaving disciplines, and 2nd in the Ocean Woman relay event (team event)
  - 1 Bronze – 3rd in the Board Race
- Amy's high results combined with her team mates saw Ireland place 2nd in the overall beach team rankings at the European Junior Lifesaving Championships.

Amy O'Brien, Sports Person of the Year, with WSI Chairman Martin O'Sullivan and Mr Seán Canney TD, Minister of State for Community Development

Bernard Cahill, Clare

Bernard excelled in his events at the National Stillwater Lifesaving Championships at the UL Sport Arena in February and attended the Surf Lifesaving Great Britain National Pool Lifesaving Championships in Cardiff in April with the Irish team. In Cardiff, Bernard broke 2 Irish records and 2 UK records, winning 4 gold medals in individual events.

At the Irish Senior Openwater Lifesaving Championships in Curracloe, Co. Wexford, in September, Bernard comfortably won all 4 water events in the senior men category. Bernard is a strong competitor, a diligent worker, and a great role model for our younger competitors. Bernard was unable to attend due to lifesaving competition commitments.

Volunteer of The Year Award

Kathleen O'Hanlon

Kathleen O'Hanlon, Volunteer of the Year, with WSI Chairman Martin O'Sullivan and Mr Seán Canney TD, Minister of State for Community Development.

Kathleen O'Hanlon has given in excess of 55 years' voluntary service to Water Safety Ireland. Her involvement with Monaghan Water Safety stems back to the early 1960s when she undertook water safety classes at Lamb's Lake outside Monaghan Town with the Red Cross.

Kathleen was instrumental in the formation of a strong Water Safety Area Committee in Monaghan and assisted in teaching classes in St. Davnet's Hospital pool. Kathleen progressed from Instructor to Examiner, and for many years, was the only Examiner in Co. Monaghan. In addition to teaching classes and examining in Monaghan, she examines classes in Co. Cavan each summer and she has also examined in Counties Donegal, Leitrim and Louth.

At a local level, Kathleen served as Secretary of Monaghan WSAC for in excess of 25 years. She is currently the Treasurer of Monaghan WSAC. Kathleen has also served as Certificate Secretary for the WSAC since the position was established in 2000.

When Monaghan pool closed in early 2001 she immediately started running classes in The Four Seasons Hotel Leisure Centre. She was central in getting a new pool built on the old pool site, which opened in 2006.

Kathleen continues to teach water safety classes weekly in Monaghan Leisure Complex and in addition to her weekly classes, she organises Pool Lifeguard Courses, Assistant Swim Teacher Courses and Swim Teacher Courses. Kathleen has also taught on Primary School In-service Courses.

Kathleen has a wealth of knowledge of water safety issues that has not only been utilised at local level, but also nationwide. Kathleen's reliability is second to none, whether it is asking her to examine a class, register students, or arrange for collection and arrange fundraising permits with An Garda Síochána. Kathleen's dependability and reliability as treasurer is both an asset to her local Water Safety Area Committee and at national level in ensuring that our financial obligations and responsibilities are completed to an extremely high standard. Her common-sense approach to water safety and examinations puts both instructors and students at ease.

Away from the pool deck and during Water Safety Awareness Week, Kathleen visits schools giving talks and presentations. She is an avid advocate of the PAWS programme and passionate about ensuring both students and teachers are aware of the dangers of water.

In 2011, Kathleen was awarded a County Monaghan Person of the Year Award for her services in swimming and lifesaving. As the master of ceremonies noted on the evening of the ceremony, "There are very few people in Co. Monaghan who have learned to swim that have not been influenced by Kathleen O Hanlon."

For many in Co. Monaghan, Kathleen is both the face of water safety (or known by many as Mrs. Water Safety) and a second Mammy to the WSI Instructors. Kathleen's priority is, not only, the welfare and learning of her students, but also encompasses the welfare, development, and training of Instructors in the county. Kathleen's tireless work is fundamental to Monaghan WSAC's steadfast position and ongoing progress in all matters water safety.

Life Governor Awards

John Considine

John was the Water Safety Development Officer (WSDO) for Limerick County for over 27 years, he is a current member of Limerick County Water Safety Area Committee (WSAC) since 1982 and he also established a lifeguard service in County Limerick on the Shannon Estuary. John is a long serving competitive sailing member of Foynes Yacht Club and is an active sailor and qualified power boat driver. He currently provides safety boat cover at swimming and sailing events in conjunction with Limerick County WSAC. John was previously Treasurer of Limerick County WSAC and is currently the Designated Liaison Person (DLP). He served on the Water Safety Ireland council for over ten years and he was the Chairman of the WSI Legal Commission from 2010 – 2012 and the Chairman of the Education Commission from 2012 – 2014. He was also a member of the Lifeguard Commission. John developed improved presentation of lifebelts and signage to reduce vandalism during his time as WSDO.

Michael Power

Michael has been a champion in following the ethos of Water Safety Ireland (WSI) in drowning prevention over many years on a voluntary basis. He began volunteering with the Red Cross in 1959. He taught many children of all ages to swim at Graiguenamanagh on the River Barrow. He currently teaches lifesaving to teenagers in many locations. Since 1973, he has qualified as an Instructor, Swimming teacher and an Examiner. He served as Water Safety Area Committee Chairman, he was a member of the WSI Technical Committee from 1977 – 1982 and he has been a member of the Kilkenny Water Safety Area Committee since 1973.

The Des Kenny Award

Galway bookseller Des Kenny and his wife Maureen were regular sea swimmers in Salthill, starting each day with a dip at Blackrock and Ladies Beach. One day, Des was swimming with his eight-year-old son, Tom, off Blackrock when the young boy disappeared underwater. His head surfaced, and vanished again, but his father eventually managed to get him ashore and out of harm's way. "When we got home, the first thing my father did was get on the phone to find out where he could learn about water safety", Tom Kenny remembers. At the time, the Irish Red Cross in Dublin was the responsible body, and so Des Kenny signed up for training, completed all his lessons and became an instructor. He approached his new skill with enthusiasm and devotion, teaching his own children and members of Our Lady's Boy's Club in Galway City, setting up training courses throughout the county and beyond, and speaking to local authorities about safety on beaches and riverbanks.

Being a fluent Irish speaker, he both set up and ran the first water safety courses on the Aran Islands. Like many west coast fishermen, Aran islanders had long lived, and died, by the “pisreog” that it was better not to know how to swim, and let the sea take one quickly if one’s boat got into trouble. Des Kenny managed to break that spell, working with school students who in turn influenced their parents to get involved.

Des Kenny was Chairman of Water Safety Ireland from 1971 to 1987.

The Des Kenny Award Recipients:

Michael Gaule Jnr.

On the 2nd of July 2016, Michael Gaule was visiting his Aunt. At some point his Aunt felt unwell and was on her way outside for fresh air when she collapsed. Michael immediately went to his Aunt and discovered that she was not breathing. He advised others to call for an ambulance and commenced Basic Life Support. His aunt began to breathe again and he placed her into the recovery position while they waited for the emergency services to arrive. Once she started to breathe normally he made sure that she was warm and reassured her until emergency services arrived. She made a full recovery thanks to Michael’s quick action and calm control of the situation which undoubtedly saved his Aunt’s life.

Ruby Hurst and Odhrán O Neill

On the 26th of October 2017 at Coláiste Cholmcille, Ballyshannon, a student collapsed after a P.E. class. Initially, it was thought that the student had fainted but it soon became clear that the student was in more serious danger, as he was unresponsive and not breathing. Two students within the group, Ruby and Odhrán, both trained by Water Safety Ireland to perform lifesaving, immediately sprang into action.

Ruby commenced Basic Life Support and CPR while Odhrán rushed to get an AED. Meanwhile, emergency services were called. Upon Odhrán’s return the pair worked together with the assistance of the AED to preserve the young girl’s life by delivering shocks and continuing CPR. Ruby and Odhrán’s early intervention saved this young woman’s life. It was noted by the emergency services that the CPR technique used by these two young Water Safety Ireland members was “exemplary”.

Scott Bevan

On the evening of July 3rd of this year, sixteen-year-old Co. Limerick native, Scott Bevan, was cycling with a friend in the Ballyhoura Mountains. When Scott and his friend separated from each other by taking two different trails, Scott came across a wounded cyclist who was unable to stand or walk after a serious bicycle crash. Scott rushed to this man's aid, advising him to stay still on his side while Scott quickly cycled for help. He found his friend, whose father came on the scene to help while Scott guided an ambulance to their location and went to get blankets to keep the man warm while waiting for the Paramedics. Scott's quick response most likely saved this man, who spent four weeks in Cork University Hospital for treatment for head trauma. The man recently sought Scott out through social media to express gratitude for Scott's help and update Scott on his recovery. Scott has gone on to complete a Lifesaving course in UL Sport Arena, which we are delighted to report he passed with flying colours.

Rescue Appreciation Awards

James Flannery and Paul Keane

On Monday the 13th of January at the River Fergus in Ennis, both James and Paul noticed a woman in difficulty in the water. They got a lifebuoy and threw it out towards the woman. She caught the ring buoy and they held on to the rope. They eventually managed to bring her safely to shore. She made a full recovery.

Laura Mc Donnell and Odhrán Savage

On the 15th of April 2018 at Cardiff International pool at a Lifesaving competition, Laura was swimming when she noticed a man was underwater. She immediately dived down to pull him to safety. Odhrán noticed what was happening and immediately alerted the lifeguards. He then proceeded to help Laura to pull the casualty out of the water. The man made a full recovery.

David Hartley and Conor Mahony

On the 1st September at Curracloe Beach, Wexford, during the National Surf Lifesaving Championships, both David and Conor noticed a young man in difficulty in the water. They immediately went to his aid. They supported the casualty while at the same time calling out for additional help. The casualty made a full recovery.

Ruairi de Barra

On the 2nd of June 2006 at Kennedy Pier, Cobh, Ruairi noticed a group of teenagers shouting and looking down into the water. He crossed the road and observed a man in the water. Ruairi immediately ran up the quay wall to where some small rowing boards were on the slipway. He located a length of rope and went back to the scene. He fashioned a sling from the rope, tied the free end to the rails and then lowered it down to the casualty. After a period of time he managed to instruct the man to get both of his arms into the sling. Ruairi then lifted the man up onto the quay to safety. The man made a full recovery.

Vincent Egan – Posthumous Award

Vincent Egan was a gentleman to work with. He devoted more than 40 years of his life to water safety and worked every summer in Mosney Holiday Centre, where he engaged with so many young lifeguards who were given the huge task of lifesaving in Ireland's busiest summer camp at that time. There were many difficult challenges for these young people who had the responsibility of looking after swimmers in both Funtropica water world and the six-foot outdoor pool. Vincent always protected his staff and spoke up for them. He cared deeply for his lifeguards and was extremely kind and respectful towards them all. He was always keen to remind everyone, whether they were great swimmers or not, of the dangers of the water. He made life working in a very busy pool easier because of his respect for the young lifeguards.

The SEIKO Just In Time Award

Presented to those who came to the assistance of person(s) in difficulty in water and in danger of drowning.

Kelvin Kearns – Waterford

On the 27th of September 2017 in Butlerstown, Co. Waterford, a man was driving along the N25 in treacherous conditions when he suddenly lost control of his car and veered off the road, crashing down a ravine and landing upside down in a deep stream. Kelvin happened to be on route to Kileaden when he saw an unusual site at the side of the road. He pulled into a lay-by and quickly ran to the scene where someone had already called emergency services. He ran back to his car to grab a nail bar in case the door of the car was jammed shut. He jumped in the water and got the car door open. From the passenger's side he reached in but could not feel anyone in the car. He resurfaced and then went back down into the water and searched the back of the car. Initially he could not see anybody, and then he noticed a man's hand floating in the water – he had managed to remove his seatbelt. Kelvin reached over and grabbed hold of the man and pulled him out of the car but he was unable to pull him fully to safety due to the position of the car. He was forced instead to hold him up for as long as it took the emergency services to arrive. The man made a full recovery.

Finn Bell Ryan – Portugal

On Sunday the 12th August while on holiday in Portugal, 8-year-old Finn noticed a 3-year-old boy in difficulty in the pool. He immediately entered the water and pulled the boy up from the bottom of the pool. Finn kept reassuring the boy even though he did not speak English. Young Finn displayed alertness, initiative and quick thinking.

Garda Daryl Gilmore and Garda Gerry McDonagh – Roscommon

On the 12th of February 2009, at the harbour at Lake O'Flynn, Ballinlough, Co. Roscommon, Garda Gilmore was informed that a car had plunged into the water. He immediately entered the freezing cold water and swam approximately 40 ft. to the car. He then forced open the driver's door. The water was very dark so he had to feel around to locate the driver. He located the unconscious driver and removed her from the car. Using his lifesaving knowledge and skills, he brought her up to the surface and swam to the water's edge – keeping her head above water throughout. At this point, Garda McDonagh was on hand to help him take the woman out of the water to safety. The woman made a full recovery.

Garda Elaine Murphy – Monaghan

On the 28th of January at Derrycreevey, Co. Monaghan, Garda Murphy was on patrol in the area when she was stopped by a person who alerted her to a car that had crashed over a wall into a flooded area. Garda Murphy reacted quickly and grabbed some golf clubs from the crashed car to judge the depth of the water. She then proceeded to wade out to the person in the water. Upon reaching the woman she discovered that she was motionless. Garda Murphy managed to pull her back to shore where she successfully performed CPR on her. She made a full recovery.

Garda Colum Barron and Robert Browne – Roscommon

On the 27th of August on Wooden Bridge Road, Boyle, Co. Roscommon, both Robert Browne and Garda Barron managed to pull two occupants out of a car that had entered the river and landed on its roof. Upon reaching the car, they broke the back window and successfully pulled the occupants out of the car and brought them to safety.

Helen O'Connor, Niall McArdle, Mike Fennell and Simon McFetridge – Dublin

On the 1st of January at Low Rock, Malahide, Co. Dublin, Helen was swimming with a friend. When she got to shore, she turned around to find her friend in difficulty. She immediately ran back into the water and called for help. Simon observed what was happening and quickly entered the water to help. Meanwhile, Helen had reached her friend and realised she was unconscious and found it difficult to turn her over. Upon reaching Helen and her friend, Simon managed to turn the casualty over onto his back. Both Helen and Simon managed to bring the casualty to safety where CPR was performed by Niall. The casualty made a full recovery.

Garda Cormac McClafferty, Garda Dermot Kenny and Garda Michael McHugh – Donegal

On the 8th of May 2016 at the pier in Buncrana, Co. Donegal, Gardaí McClafferty, Kenny and McHugh arrived at the scene where a man was in distress in the water. They immediately made a human chain and swam out to the casualty. The casualty was going under the water due to cold shock. They eventually reached him and pulled him back to the pier to safety. The casualty made a full recovery.

John Byrne, Hugh Burke, Brendan Butler and Eamon Doyle – Wexford

On the 2nd of July at Duncannon Beach, Co. Wexford, on a family day out, Tomek's twin daughters were playing on an inflated floatable device at the edge of the shore when the wind caught the device and swept them further out. Tomek immediately swam after it and one of his daughters jumped towards him. Hugh Burke, who received a call about this incident, immediately got his boat and went to the scene, as did Brendan Butler and Eamon Doyle. Hugh Burke took the remaining girl from the inflated floatable device. Meanwhile, another person entered the water to take the first daughter from the father and brought her to shore. He then returned to the water to go back for Tomek but got into difficulty himself. Meanwhile, John Byrne, who has lifesaving skills and training, entered the water with two ringbuoy's. He swam to the man in difficulty and gave him a ringbuoy and then proceeded to swim towards Tomek to bring him safely to shore. John re-entered the water and managed to bring the man with the other ring buoy to shore.

Sean Oliver, Niall O'Neill, Samuel Healy, Dara McDonagh and Brendan Chasseriaud – Galway

On Sunday the 28th of October on the River Corrib, Co. Galway, teenagers Sean, Niall, Samuel, Dara and Brendan were alerted to a person in distress in the water by onlookers on the shore while they were on route to tie up the Rigid Inflatable Boat (RIB) they were in. Sean Oliver and his four friends in fast flowing conditions in the river immediately went to find the person in danger. Once they located the person they made their approach and managed to pull the man on board the boat to safety. The man made a full recovery.

Martin Cullinane – Cork

Martin Cullinane saved two young brothers from drowning and became the face of an Water Safety Ireland campaign this summer to create awareness about the dangers of drowning. Martin did not hesitate when he saw the boys, aged five and six, struggling in the dangerous tidal waters at Mariner's Quay in Passage West, Co. Cork. The younger of the two boys was floating lifelessly a good distance away from his brother. There is considerable ship traffic passing through Cork Harbour which creates swells that can be extremely dangerous if people are swimming there. It was getting dark. The drop to the water was about 12 ft. Martin dived in and saved the first boy who clung to Martin's leg terrified. The second boy was lifeless and had foam coming from his mouth. Martin turned him over to extract what he described as "an unbelievable amount of water". The campaign which was viewed over 350,000 times online sees Martin appeal to parents to ensure that their children learn swimming and lifesaving skills at the earliest opportunity.

Béibhinn Keane – Carlow

On the 25th of July at the River Barrow, Co. Carlow, Béibhinn was alerted that her Aunt had gotten into difficulty in the water. Béibhinn entered the water and swam quickly towards her Aunt. Upon reaching her Aunt, Béibhinn called out to another person to call emergency services. She held onto her Aunt which gripping the river bank for some time. Béibhinn continued to reassure her Aunt as she drifted in and out of consciousness. Meanwhile, she called to her cousin to carefully enter the water and place an inflated lifejacket on her Aunt. She then placed her Aunt onto her back and proceeded to bring her to the top of the river where the ambulance crew were waiting. Her Aunt managed to reach up and grab the hands of ambulance crew and they pulled her out of the water to safety with the help of a lifeguard. She made a full recovery.

Gerard Lally – Donegal

On Sunday the 27th of May at Bundoran beach, Co. Donegal, Gerard was on his lunch break when he sighted three people in difficulty in the water (an adult, a teenager and an 11-year-old boy). He immediately ran down onto the rocks and, after quickly assessing the situation, swam out towards them. By instructing both the teenager and the young boy to grab hold of a ring buoy he was able to bring them both to shore, where he stayed with them until the ambulance services arrived and subsequently took over. Meanwhile, the RNLI had arrived and assisted the adult and successfully brought him to safety. All three made a full recovery.

Ger Henehan and Alan Duggan – Galway

On the 28th of June at Lough Corrib, Co. Galway, Ger was after completing a training swim with his friends when a man approached them and alerted them to a woman in difficulty in the water. They entered the water immediately and reached the woman, bringing her swiftly to safety. She made a full recovery.

Sergeant Conlaith Mulhall, Garda Gavin Fleet and Garda Omar Murtagh – Dublin

On the 8th November 2015 at Coal Quay Pier, Dun Laoghaire Harbour, Co. Dublin, Garda Murtagh received a call regarding a person in distress. He alerted Sgt Mulhall and Garda Fleet and they both went to the scene. Both Gardaí waded into the water holding onto a mooring rope and pulled the casualty out of the water to safety. The casualty made a full recovery.

Tony O'Connor – Dublin

On the 7th of September 2017, Tony was walking along Dun Laoghaire East Pier in Dublin when he noticed a man in distress in the water. # Media Appreciation Awards

Presented in appreciation for raising awareness about water safety issues.

Provincial Radio Station Award: Midlands 103

Midlands 103 is an independent local radio station serving counties Laois, Offaly and Westmeath. Thanks to their coverage of water safety issues, listeners are more aware of the dangers at aquatic environments, and for this we are very grateful. L-R: Roger Sweeney Deputy CEO WSI, Sinead Hubble Midlands 103, Mr Seán Canney TD, Minister of State for Community Development

Community Radio Station Award: Athlone Community Radio

Athlone Community Radio was set up in 2007 to provide Athlone and surrounding areas with a community-owned and community-led radio project. They are committed to providing a unique service that aims to educate, inform and entertain. They have enjoyed strong commitment by volunteers for over eleven years and we wish them every success as they continue to help us to promote water safety to their listeners. L-R: Roger Sweeney Deputy CEO WSI, Catherine Ivers and Antonio Riba ACR, Mr Seán Canney TD, Minister of State for Community Development

National Radio Broadcaster: RTÉ Raidió na Gaeltachta

We are grateful to RTÉ Raidió na Gaeltachta for liaising with Water Safety Ireland on specific water safety issues to deliver important messages to the public and for helping us to raise awareness and to change attitudes and behaviours around water safety. L-R: Roger Sweeney Deputy CEO WSI, Fionnuala Ui Neachtain, Mr Seán Canney TD, Minister of State for Community Development.

National TV Broadcaster: Virgin Media - Ireland AM

Every summer, hundreds of thousands of people are attracted to Ireland's waterways nationwide. Many of those taking to our wonderful aquatic environments have very little knowledge of the dangers of open water. We are grateful to the Ireland AM show on Virgin Media for helping us to raise awareness and to change attitudes and behaviours around water. L-R: Roger Sweeney Deputy CEO WSI, Sinead Ryan Virgin Media, Mr Seán Canney TD, Minister of State for Community Development.

National TV and Radio Broadcaster combined: BBC Gaeilge

BBC Gaeilge partnered with Water Safety Ireland to create a documentary that celebrated Foyle Search and Rescue's tenth anniversary of saving lives in Derry. In addition to televising Water Safety Ireland's key messages, BBC Gaeilge also broadcast key messages from the programme on a tailor-made radio show, thereby ensuring that their catchment area received the key messages needed to stay safe in, on and near water.

Provincial Press Award: The Kilkenny People

The Kilkenny People was first published in 1892, and has continued to serve the people of Kilkenny city, county and surrounding areas for over 120 years. A strong voice for the local community, the newspaper has featured in James Joyce's Ulysses and its printing press has delivered many of Water Safety Ireland's messages to readers. We congratulate the Kilkenny People and thank them sincerely for helping to highlight water safety awareness. L-R: Roger Sweeney Deputy CEO WSI, Catherine Millea and Joan McLoughlin Kilkenny County Council and Mr Seán Canney TD, Minister of State for Community Development.

National Press Award: The Irish Times - Arlene Harris

The Irish Times is an Irish daily broadsheet newspaper launched in 1859. Their printed and digital editions have covered many topical water safety issues throughout the year, including a particularly noteworthy piece by Arlene Harris describing the importance of "Lifesaving Sport". We are truly grateful for this support as it helps to encourage parents to get their children involved in the sport that trains people in essential water rescue and survival skills and helps to ensure the supply of Lifeguards at pools and open water areas nationwide.

Community and Social Responsibility Awards

In recognition of the support given to Water Safety Ireland's community work, charitable activities and commitment to drowning prevention initiatives and the reduction of aquatic related injuries

Timemark - Arlene Foy

Timemark Limited is a distributor of leading Watch and Jewellery Brands. Founded in 1979, and entirely Irish owned and managed, Timemark are sponsors of the SEIKO Just In Time Award, which they have supported since its inception in 2001 and for which we are deeply grateful.

The Western Region Drug and Alcohol Task Force - Neil Wilson

Supported by the NUIG Skills for Business Team (Staff: Michael Campion, Fiona Durnin; Students: Andrew Guckian, Conor Malone, Sean McGuinness, Stephen McDermott)

- There are a large number of students in Galway, and socialising often takes place near a waterway which can be fast-flowing in winter, and where there have been a number of fatalities. The "Galway Safe App" has been devised by the Western Region Drug and Alcohol Task Force and uses GPS technology to offer support to students detected lingering in particular waterside areas of Galway city late at night or early in the morning. Water Safety Ireland was delighted to support elements of the project and it is our hope that the app will help to reduce the number of fatalities by drowning.
- The Skills for Business Community Partner programme is a module taken by students of the J.E. Cairnes School of Business and Economics at NUI, Galway. The programme integrates meaningful community engagement to enrich the student's learning experience and strengthen community links. The students raised awareness of App among the student population in Galway. We are delighted to have worked with the students the Western Region Drug & Alcohol Task Force and thank them sincerely for helping us to deliver a message that will hopefully lead to a reduction in aquatic incidents among the student population.

Finol Oils – Sean Holland

Finol Oils sponsor marine grade oil for Water Safety Ireland's fleet of surf rescue Rigid Inflatable Boats. These are specially designed for use in rescue situations on our beaches and coastlines and are used for Lifeguard training and patrols. Because these crafts are used in real life rescue scenarios, it is terribly important that the engines are kept in reliable conditions and to this end we are very grateful to Finol Oils in supporting our lifesaving craft.

Fáilte Ireland - Edel Mitchell

We are grateful to Fáilte Ireland for sponsorship that helped fund the European Junior Lifesaving Championships, an annual event open to Lifesavers aged 18 and under. The sport is truly multi-disciplined and takes place in the pool, on the beach and in the ocean. It has close ties to swimming, athletics, kayaking, rowing, surfing and power boating and is based on the equipment and skills that lifeguards use to perform lifesaving rescues.

Clare County Council - Marie O'Neill

We are grateful to Clare County Council for funding that enabled Ireland to host the European Junior Lifesaving Championships this year and for accommodating the open water events at Kilkee beach where Team Ireland placed 2nd in Europe. Junior lifesaving competitors typically become top Lifeguards, patrolling beaches and pools in Ireland and abroad. It is a special sport that gives so much back to the community.

Limerick City and County Council - Caroline Curley

We are grateful to Limerick City and County Council for funding that enabled Ireland to host the swimming pool events of the European Junior Lifesaving Championships at the University of Limerick's 50-metre pool this year. Ireland's top Junior Lifesavers won 20 gold medals, 16 silver medals and 8 bronze medals at the Championships, the best performance ever by an Irish team at an international competition.

Office of Emergency Planning, Department of Defence - Jame Ryan

Water Safety Ireland acknowledges the positive support that we have received from the Office of Emergency Planning, Department of Defence in promoting water safety and assisting in drowning prevention. They have been supportive of our work for a number of years, particularly this summer when Ireland managed to keep accidental drownings down, compared to some European and Nordic countries where they increased.

Water Angels – Lynn Quinlan

When young Leon Quinlan drowned, his mother Lynn contacted Water Safety Ireland about running an event to raise awareness about water safety. Funding from that event enabled WSI to recruit an Education Development Officer to visit primary schools and teach water safety awareness to pupils. Lynn's support has enabled thousands of children to learn how to stay safe near water and today we recognise Lynn and particularly her young son Leon, whose name will now be at the heart of an annual award to a primary school that makes a particularly strong effort to teach water safety to the children in their care. Lynn's son Jordan (L) presents the award to this year's winning school, St Mary's National School, Monaghan. With Principal Andrea Malone, Teacher Louise Treanor and students Katlyn Mc Quillan, Ryan Kieran and Rachel Rice.

Health Research Board – Michael O'Sullivan

This award acknowledges the extensive work undertaken by Michael to reveal a link between alcohol and drugs and drownings. Michael is currently a Trinity College Dublin research fellow working at the Health Research Board on a series of projects. Most recently he has been analysing data from the HRB's National Drug-Related Deaths Index (NDRDI), looking specifically at the role of alcohol and drugs in drowning deaths. This is the first time this type of analysis has been done. It will provide essential evidence to inform public health and prevention measures in the area of drowning' and for this we are very grateful.

Patrick McDonnell

A little water safety history was made this year when Athlone man Paddy McDonnell swam the full length of the Shannon, complete with his WSI swim cap to promote water safety awareness along his route. He earned himself a place in the record books when he became the first man to do so. He swam an average of eight hours a day, a journey of 245 km over 14 days. Paddy raised awareness of water safety issues along the way and for this we are very grateful.

Inland Fisheries Ireland

Inland Fisheries Ireland is the agency responsible for the conservation, management, and improvement of our inland fisheries and sea angling resources for the benefit of the community and the environment. They have partnered on many occasions with initiatives to raise awareness about water safety and their network has run events such as the "Fish & Film Competition" to engage the public and encourage them to use our wonderful aquatic resources. We are grateful that they include information from Water Safety Ireland that encourages people how to use these areas safely.

Met Éireann

Met Éireann is the national meteorological service in Ireland. The service began supplying forecasts to Radio Éireann from 1948, to daily newspapers from 1952, to television from shortly after the first Raidió Teilifís Éireann television broadcasts in 1962, and recorded telephone forecasts in the 1960s. We are grateful to Met Éireann for providing water safety information during their broadcasted forecasts and for including links to drowning prevention advice, particularly during this summer's hot spell. Met Éireann's Evelyn Cusack, Andrew Doran-Sherlock and Joanne

Bord Iascaigh Mhara - Jim O'Toole

Water safety within the commercial fishing sector has increased significantly in recent years thanks to interventions by BIM, the agency responsible for developing the Irish seafood industry. BIM's vision is to support the industry so that Ireland becomes the international leader in satisfying the growing demand for healthy, safe, and sustainably produced seafood. Hand in hand with their mission is to prioritise safety for those men and women venturing offshore for our benefit in all sorts of weather and for this we are very grateful.

The Irish Coast Guard - Shane Dillon

The overall objective of the Coast Guard is to reduce the loss of life on Ireland's seas, lakes, waterways and rivers, coastal and remote areas; to provide assistance to persons in danger and to coordinate searches for missing persons and intervene as necessary in marine casualties. To deliver this the Coast Guard has in place rescue, security, casualty and pollution response regimes to ensure that where incidents do occur that there is an appropriate level of emergency preparedness and response to save life and to protect the quality of the marine environment. The Irish Coast Guard continues to partner with Water Safety Ireland as part of Ireland's "Marine Safety Working Group", for which we are deeply grateful.

The RNLI - Kevin Rahill

The Royal National Lifeboat Institution is a charity in the UK and in Ireland that saves lives at sea around the coasts of the United Kingdom, the Republic of Ireland, the Channel Islands and the Isle of Man, as well as on some inland waterways. It was granted a Royal Charter in 1860, having been founded in the UK in 1824. Water Safety Ireland partners with the RNLI on a number of projects, most recently an analysis of drownings around the Irish coast and as part of the Marine Safety Working Group. We are grateful for their efforts in rescuing people from dangers and helping to reduce drownings.

Commissioners of Irish Lights - Brian Kelly

The Commissioners of Irish Lights is the body that serves as the General Lighthouse Authority for the island of Ireland plus its adjacent seas and islands. In recent years they have transformed how they deliver services, putting the emphasis on efficiency, cost-effectiveness and sustainability, while exploiting new technology and new opportunities wherever possible. Many will have seen their very successful documentary series on RTÉ television recently and we are grateful for their efforts to keep mariners safe from harm around our coast.

Inland Waterways Association of Ireland - John Dolan and Kay Baxter

The IWAI, formed in 1954 to promote the development, use and maintenance of Ireland's navigable rivers and canals, has a long history of promoting water safety awareness to users of Ireland's waterways and for this we are very grateful.

Foyle Search and Rescue - John Ferguson and Conor Hargan

Foyle Search and Rescue is a registered voluntary based charity operating in Derry in Northern Ireland but cover search and rescue operations in the United Kingdom and Republic of Ireland when required. It was set up by local people in response to the alarmingly high number of drownings in the River Foyle and has adopted the role of preventing suicide and supporting affected families in the city. Their aim is to reduce the number of people who die through drowning in the River Foyle, one of the coldest and fastest flowing rivers in Europe. They patrol the river at identified peak times every week, maintaining ring buoys, engaging with people in distress and saving lives. They also have an Emergency Response Team made up of 15 dedicated volunteers who are on call 24 hours a day, 365 days a year, for incidents and emergencies outside of patrol times. This team is paged by the PSNI (Police Service of Northern Ireland) to respond to potential incidents and suicide attempts in and around the river. This team also acts as a body recovering team who search for and recover any missing person suspected to be in the river. They also promote and provide education on water safety and suicide awareness to local schools, workplaces and community groups.

SafetyZone.ie is a website hub of national organisations that provide classes in a range of aquatic activities so that those taking part do so in a safe structured environment. Taking classes with qualified, registered training providers is the best way to safely enjoy Ireland's waterways and thanks to this partnership, the public can quickly find classes for safe and varied aquatic activities.

Leon Quinlan Memorial Award

St. Mary's National School, Three Mile House, Co. Monaghan

We wish to thank St. Mary's National School for delivering Water Safety Ireland's Primary School Aquatics Programme – Primary Aquatics Water Safety (PAWS). The PAWS programme was developed in partnership with the Educational Company of Ireland to provide a free educational resource for primary schools which outlines lifesaving guidelines for children of every age and is available digitally for every school in the country. The strong emphasis that the school places on water safety is reflected in the fact that in the last three years, 272 pupils from St. Mary's National School were awarded with PAWS certificates. St. Mary's National School organises swimming classes for their pupils and the school is dedicated to complementing this with Water Safety Ireland's PAWS programme which gives pupils the skills, attitudes and behaviours necessary to stay safe in the vicinity of aquatic environments. It is a tremendous achievement by all involved and we extend our congratulations to all of the pupils who passed their water safety exams and our appreciation to all the teachers involved in the success of the programme.

Analysis of Drownings 2018

Water Safety Ireland - targeting at-risk groups with drowning prevention initiatives...

The total number of drownings in Ireland in 2018 was 103, 5 fewer than in 2017 when 109 drowned, the lowest for eighty years and 21 fewer than the average number of annual drownings over the last ten years (124).

Each figure in the following graphical analysis, be it accidental, suicide or of undetermined cause, reflects a preventable tragedy that affects so many lives. Water Safety Ireland continues to target at-risk groups with initiatives to highlight best practices so that drownings are reduced.

A synopsis of some general contributory factors over the years:

1. Poor or inadequate equipment (e.g. boats or lifejackets);
2. Not wearing a correctly fitting lifejacket;
3. Alcohol consumption;
4. Falling unexpectedly into water;
5. Improper use of boats and equipment;
6. Overestimation of skills; underestimation of ability;
7. Lack of local knowledge when travelling in Ireland and abroad;
8. Not being able to swim or not having lifesaving and water survival skills;
9. Easy unauthorized access to waterways;
10. Cold water shock and hypothermia;
11. Current (including rip currents, river currents, and tidal currents);
12. Offshore winds (including flotation devices);
13. Pre-existing diseases;
14. Underwater entanglement;
15. Bottom surface gradient and stability;
16. Waves (coastal, boat);
17. Water transparency;
18. Impeded visibility (including coastal configuration, structures and overcrowding);
19. Lack of parental supervision (infants and children);
20. Change in weather conditions;
21. Excessive "horseplay" or over exuberant behaviour;
22. Swimming outside the depth of the user.

A synopsis of some general preventive and management actions:

1. Public education by Water Safety Ireland regarding hazards and safe behaviours;
2. Teaching children to stay away from water when unsupervised through the WSI PAWS (Primary Aquatics Water Safety) programme;
3. Continual adult supervision of children;
4. WSI media campaigns that drowning can happen quickly and quietly;
5. Promote in WSI press announcements, the restriction of alcohol provision before or during aquatic activities;
6. Provision by Water Safety Ireland of properly trained and equipped lifeguards;
7. Provision of rescue services;
8. Water Safety Ireland Risk Assessments that include assessments of local hazard warning notices, access to emergency response and availability of resuscitation skills/facilities and other factors;
9. Development by Water Safety Ireland of rescue and resuscitation skills among general public and user groups;
10. Coordination by Water Safety Ireland with user group associations concerning hazard awareness and safe behaviours;
11. Wearing of adequate lifejackets and Personal Flotation Devices when boating;
12. Fencing and doors to isolate outdoor aquatic environments.

Data from 2009 to 2014 derives from reports within the Consular Assistance section of the Department of Foreign Affairs to whom we are very grateful and where limited resources prevent the extraction of data for 2015 - 2018. In this instance WSI has relied on information extracted from media reports.
